1981-82 PROSPECTS

"Regular-season mediocrity, post-season excellence" is the way one sports writer summed up the 1980-81 season, one that has to rank as one of the most exciting in the long, successful annals of Syracuse basketball.

In the first chapter of the post Louis-Bouie Era, Syracuse broke fast from the starting gate, winning seven and losing just one but over the course of the next 18 games, the Jim Boeheim forces managed to win only eight times.

With a sixth place finish and a 15-11 record as the BIG EAST playoffs rolled around, Syracuse's string of 10 straight post-season tournaments and six 20-game seasons in a row both appeared to be nothing but pleasant memories. Toss in the loss of Marty Headd with a broken wrist and even the most loyal Orange diehard was not looking beyond the conference playoffs. An era had ended, so it seemed.

Call it magic, call it jelling, call it pride and determination, take your pick, the Orangemen over the next eight games played some of the best basketball ever seen anywhere. When the last whistle had sounded, Syracuse was only a two-point overtime loss away from having won the NIT.

Syracuse finished with a 22-12 record, the most losses ever for a Boeheim team and yet Jim may have done his best coaching job in 1980-81.

Now, as he starts his sixth year at the Orange helm, Jim Boeheim has credentials that rank him among the elite in college circles. He is the second winningest active coach (minimum five years as a head coach at major level), has been to five straight post-season tournaments, and has averaged 22.6 wins per winter.

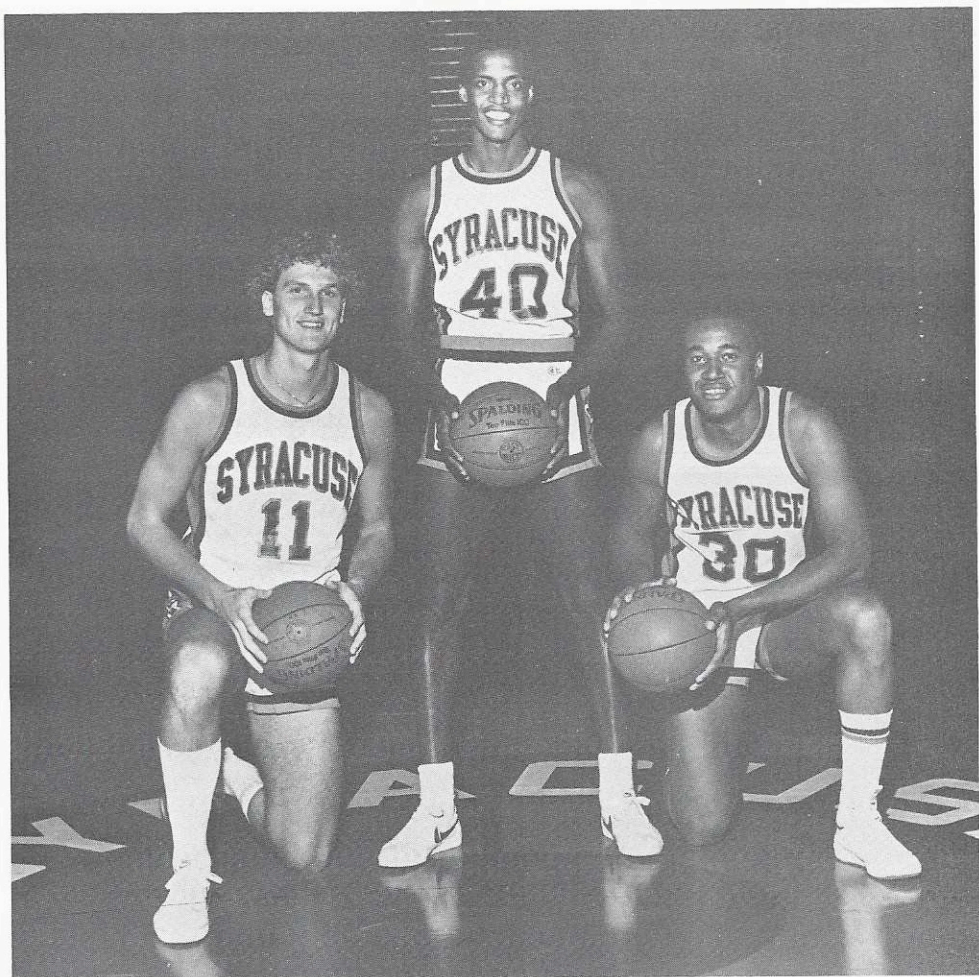

Heading the cast of returnees are tri-captains Tony Bruin, Leo Rautins, and Erich Santifer, joined by lettermen Sean Kerins, Ron Payton and Gene Waldron. Larry O'Neill, who lettered last year as a freshman, will miss the 1981-82 season due to a summer job accident.

Newcomers include frosh Andre Hawkins, New York State player of the year; Sonny Spera, and Peter Wynne and JC transfer Chris Lewis.

How quickly the Orange get out of the starting gate for Chapter III of the merry BIG EAST chase depends upon the tri-captains. All had ups and downs during the regular season but really put it all together in the stretch.

Santifer moved into the backcourt to replace Headd and averaged nearly 20 points per contest in this role. Rautins, who had to make the adjustment from backcourt to up front, also closed with a rush and was MVP in the BIG EAST tournament.

TRI-CAPTAINS

Bruin, who has great leaping ability and dazzles the crowds with his baseline take off, has become more effective from further out which makes him even more valuable.

The backcourt lost the duo of Headd and Moss. Headd was the shooter, with 1159 career points, while Moss was the playmaker who triggered many a break.

Gone also is center Dan Schayes who went from early season jeers to post-season cheers and first-round NBA status. Schayes established himself as an outstanding pivot man.

Sean Kerins, who saw duty both as a forward and center, has added nearly 20 pounds to go with his basketball smarts. Hawkins and Wynne also could provide help in the middle.

Ron Payton has been a fireman at just about every position and is the lone senior on the squad. Orange faithful know they will always get a solid effort from Ron.

Syracuse started fast in '80, slowed in mid-season then roared in the final portion of '81. No one figures to run away and hide in BIG EAST play. All conference teams are going to suffer losses. That's the kind of league it is. In addition, SU has two other games that are bound to delight Orange fans but make the coach wonder a bit, namely Ohio State and DePaul. The 81st season figures to be another exciting one. Most games will not be decided until the final minutes. Of such stuff is the BIG EAST made.

JIM BOEHEIM Head Coach

From his playmaking days when he co-captained Syracuse along with Dave Bing, it was only a question of time to when Jim would become the head coach of his alma mater.

An Upstater by birth (Lyons, N.Y., Nov. 17, 1944), Jim was a three-year starter in high school, earning all sectional and all state honors but no scholarship honors. So he enrolled at SU, came out for basketball as a walk-on and went on to rather a successful playing career. He earned three letters, scored 745 points (averaging 14.6 as a senior), and helped spark the Orange to the NCAA Eastern Regional finals in '66.

Following graduation in 1966, Boeheim did graduate work, played for several years in the Eastern League and assisted with the SU program. In 1969, he became a full-time assistant.

Jim took over when Roy Danforth resigned after the 1975-76 campaign and has steered Syracuse to some of its finest moments. He is the second winningest active major coach, has averaged 24 wins per winter, and guided SU to four NCAA tourneys and the finals of last year's NIT. He is one of the few to ever win 100 games in four years.

After finishing sixth in the BIG EAST in '80-'81, the Orangemen stormed through the playoffs to take the league title and won four NIT games before losing to Tulsa in overtime for the championship.

An avid golfer (quite good) and a patient fisherman (not as successful), Jim is married to the former Elaine Arnold.

Brendan Malone

A knowledgeable tactician, Brendan Malone is in his fourth year with the Syracuse basketball program.

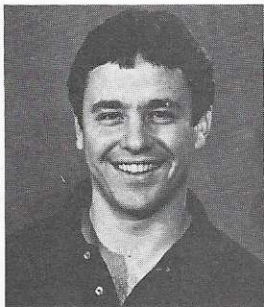

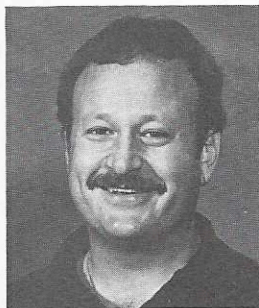

A 1962 graduate of Iona College, Malone coached at Power Memorial for 10 years. In his six years as head coach, he won two city championships and was named coach of the year three times. He coached many outstanding players including former Orangeman Eddie Moss. He was an assistant at Fordham and Yale before coming to Syracuse.

Bernie Fine

Bernie Fine was no stranger to Syracuse basketball when he joined the coaching staff in 1976. As an undergraduate at SU, Bernie was the manager of the Orange basketball team.

After graduation in 1967, he ran his own business in the Syracuse area. Bernie joined the coaching ranks in 1970-71 when he coached both football and basketball at Lincoln Junior High. The next season he turned his basketball prowess to the Henninger High School junior varsity program. Just prior to joining the SU program, he spent two seasons as head coach at Henninger.

Rick Callahan

Rick Callahan is in his first year as a part-time assistant coach at Syracuse, but he is not a newcomer to the Orange basketball program. As a graduate student last year, Rick volunteered to work with the team and did an impressive job. He is a 1980 graduate of Salem College where he served as a student assistant with the basketball program for three years.

Robert Dixon

Robert Dixon will work with the team and coaching staff as a graduate assistant. Robert graduated from Cortland State in 1976. He has worked as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Brockport State and Hamilton College.

THE BIG EAST

CONFERENCE

Exciting and balanced are the words that come to mind when one thinks about the third year of BIG EAST conference competition. Last season, 26 of 56 BIG EAST games were decided by five points or less and the average margin of victory in conference games was only 7.7 points. Boston College captured the regular season title by a single game while Syracuse needed three overtimes to defeat Villanova 83-80 for the post season tournament championship. Six BIG EAST teams were selected for post season competition with Boston College, Villanova and Georgetown going to the NCAA while Syracuse, Connecticut and St. John's went to the NIT. Syracuse advanced all the way to the championship game.

Veteran players will be challenged by some of the most outstanding new talent in the country. The nation's most sought after player, Patrick Ewing, will wear a Georgetown uniform while New York State's top player, Andre Hawkins, will play for Syracuse. Anthony Jones, William Martin, Bill Wennington, Chris Mullin, Dwayne McClain and Ed Pinckney, all high school All Americans, are other outstanding newcomers. In addition, Coach Joe Mullaney, who turned Providence College into a national power, will again be on the bench with the Friars.

The new talent will upgrade the already highly competitive brand of basketball associated with the BIG EAST conference and should make the results even more unpredictable.

1981-82 PROSPECTS

"Regular-season mediocrity, post-season excellence" is the way one sports writer summed up the 1980-81 season, one that has to rank as one of the most exciting in the long, successful annals of Syracuse basketball.

In the first chapter of the post Louis-Bouie Era, Syracuse broke fast from the starting gate, winning seven and losing just one but over the course of the next 18 games, the Jim Boeheim forces managed to win only eight times.

With a sixth place finish and a 15-11 record as the BIG EAST playoffs rolled around, Syracuse's string of 10 straight post-season tournaments and six 20-game seasons in a row both appeared to be nothing but pleasant memories. Toss in the loss of Marty Headd with a broken wrist and even the most loyal Orange diehard was not looking beyond the conference playoffs. An era had ended, so it seemed.

Call it magic, call it jelling, call it pride and determination, take your pick, the Orangemen over the next eight games played some of the best basketball ever seen anywhere. When the last whistle had sounded, Syracuse was only a two-point overtime loss away from having won the NIT.

Syracuse finished with a 22-12 record, the most losses ever for a Boeheim team and yet Jim may have done his best coaching job in 1980-81.

Now, as he starts his sixth year at the Orange helm, Jim Boeheim has credentials that rank him among the elite in college circles. He is the second winningest active coach (minimum five years as a head coach at major level), has been to five straight post-season tournaments, and has averaged 22.6 wins per winter.

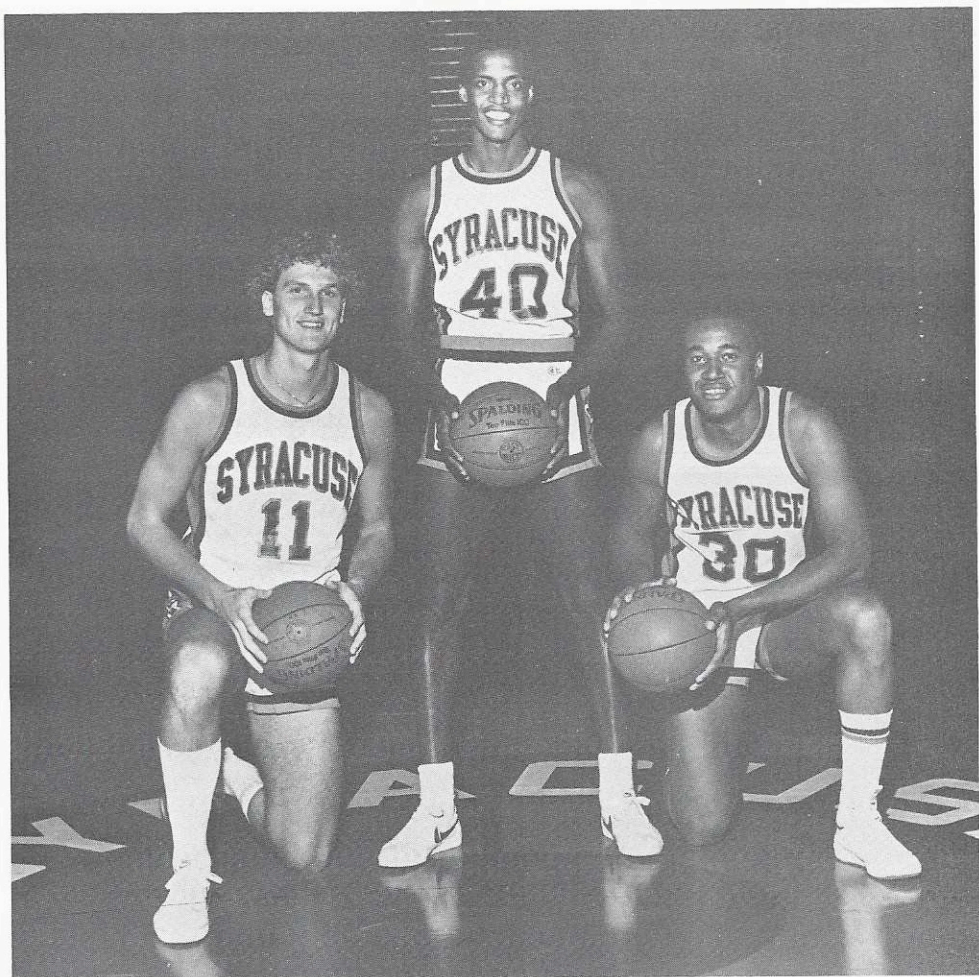

Heading the cast of returnees are tri-captains Tony Bruin, Leo Rautins, and Erich Santifer, joined by lettermen Sean Kerins, Ron Payton and Gene Waldron. Larry O'Neill, who lettered last year as a freshman, will miss the 1981-82 season due to a summer job accident.

Newcomers include frosh Andre Hawkins, New York State player of the year; Sonny Spera, and Peter Wynne and JC transfer Chris Lewis.

How quickly the Orange get out of the starting gate for Chapter III of the merry BIG EAST chase depends upon the tri-captains. All had ups and downs during the regular season but really put it all together in the stretch.

Santifer moved into the backcourt to replace Headd and averaged nearly 20 points per contest in this role. Rautins, who had to make the adjustment from backcourt to up front, also closed with a rush and was MVP in the BIG EAST tournament.

TRI-CAPTAINS

Bruin, who has great leaping ability and dazzles the crowds with his baseline take off, has become more effective from further out which makes him even more valuable.

The backcourt lost the duo of Headd and Moss. Headd was the shooter, with 1159 career points, while Moss was the playmaker who triggered many a break.

Gone also is center Dan Schayes who went from early season jeers to post-season cheers and first-round NBA status. Schayes established himself as an outstanding pivot man.

Sean Kerins, who saw duty both as a forward and center, has added nearly 20 pounds to go with his basketball smarts. Hawkins and Wynne also could provide help in the middle.

Ron Payton has been a fireman at just about every position and is the lone senior on the squad. Orange faithful know they will always get a solid effort from Ron.

Syracuse started fast in '80, slowed in mid-season then roared in the final portion of '81. No one figures to run away and hide in BIG EAST play. All conference teams are going to suffer losses. That's the kind of league it is. In addition, SU has two other games that are bound to delight Orange fans but make the coach wonder a bit, namely Ohio State and DePaul. The 81st season figures to be another exciting one. Most games will not be decided until the final minutes. Of such stuff is the BIG EAST made.

30 TRI-CAPTAIN TONY BRUIN

Height 6-5
Weight 200
Age 20
Class Junior
Hometown Astoria, N.Y.

Emerging as one of the great small forwards in the country. — Jim Boeheim

Tony "Red" Bruin showed he could be a dominant force during Syracuse's post-season success last year. Bruin began last season as the key sixth man then moved into a starting role at small forward. A great leaper who thrills Orange fans with his dunks, Tony can control the baseline against any opponent. He poured in a career high 26 points in the NIT game against Marquette...scored 25 in NIT championship game with Tulsa and earlier in the year against No. 1 ranked DePaul...BIG EAST all tournament team...Fourth team All America at Mater Christi High School where he averaged 21.2 points, 14 rebounds and six assists as a senior...Highly recruited player who chose S.U. over UCLA, Louisville and North Carolina...Continues to work on improving his shooting range.

JIM BOEHEIM Head Coach

From his playmaking days when he co-captained Syracuse along with Dave Bing, it was only a question of time to when Jim would become the head coach of his alma mater.

An Upstater by birth (Lyons, N.Y., Nov. 17, 1944), Jim was a three-year starter in high school, earning all sectional and all state honors but no scholarship honors. So he enrolled at SU, came out for basketball as a walk-on and went on to rather a successful playing career. He earned three letters, scored 745 points (averaging 14.6 as a senior), and helped spark the Orange to the NCAA Eastern Regional finals in '66.

Following graduation in 1966, Boeheim did graduate work, played for several years in the Eastern League and assisted with the SU program. In 1969, he became a full-time assistant.

Jim took over when Roy Danforth resigned after the 1975-76 campaign and has steered Syracuse to some of its finest moments. He is the second winningest active major coach, has averaged 24 wins per winter, and guided SU to four NCAA tourneys and the finals of last year's NIT. He is one of the few to ever win 100 games in four years.

After finishing sixth in the BIG EAST in '80-'81, the Orangemen stormed through the playoffs to take the league title and won four NIT games before losing to Tulsa in overtime for the championship.

An avid golfer (quite good) and a patient fisherman (not as successful), Jim is married to the former Elaine Arnold.

Brendan Malone

A knowledgeable tactician, Brendan Malone is in his fourth year with the Syracuse basketball program.

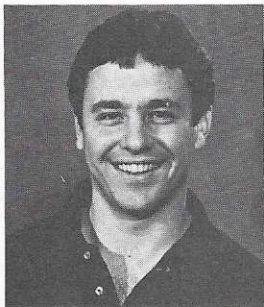

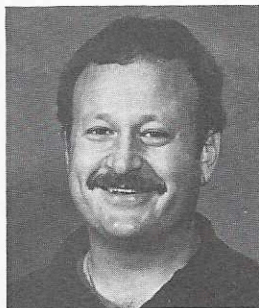

A 1962 graduate of Iona College, Malone coached at Power Memorial for 10 years. In his six years as head coach, he won two city championships and was named coach of the year three times. He coached many outstanding players including former Orangeman Eddie Moss. He was an assistant at Fordham and Yale before coming to Syracuse.

Bernie Fine

Bernie Fine was no stranger to Syracuse basketball when he joined the coaching staff in 1976. As an undergraduate at SU, Bernie was the manager of the Orange basketball team.

After graduation in 1967, he ran his own business in the Syracuse area. Bernie joined the coaching ranks in 1970-71 when he coached both football and basketball at Lincoln Junior High. The next season he turned his basketball prowess to the Henninger High School junior varsity program. Just prior to joining the SU program, he spent two seasons as head coach at Henninger.

Rick Callahan

Rick Callahan is in his first year as a part-time assistant coach at Syracuse, but he is not a newcomer to the Orange basketball program. As a graduate student last year, Rick volunteered to work with the team and did an impressive job. He is a 1980 graduate of Salem College where he served as a student assistant with the basketball program for three years.

Robert Dixon

Robert Dixon will work with the team and coaching staff as a graduate assistant. Robert graduated from Cortland State in 1976. He has worked as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Brockport State and Hamilton College.

THE BIG EAST

CONFERENCE

Exciting and balanced are the words that come to mind when one thinks about the third year of BIG EAST conference competition. Last season, 26 of 56 BIG EAST games were decided by five points or less and the average margin of victory in conference games was only 7.7 points. Boston College captured the regular season title by a single game while Syracuse needed three overtimes to defeat Villanova 83-80 for the post season tournament championship. Six BIG EAST teams were selected for post season competition with Boston College, Villanova and Georgetown going to the NCAA while Syracuse, Connecticut and St. John's went to the NIT. Syracuse advanced all the way to the championship game.

Veteran players will be challenged by some of the most outstanding new talent in the country. The nation's most sought after player, Patrick Ewing, will wear a Georgetown uniform while New York State's top player, Andre Hawkins, will play for Syracuse. Anthony Jones, William Martin, Bill Wennington, Chris Mullin, Dwayne McClain and Ed Pinckney, all high school All Americans, are other outstanding newcomers. In addition, Coach Joe Mullaney, who turned Providence College into a national power, will again be on the bench with the Friars.

The new talent will upgrade the already highly competitive brand of basketball associated with the BIG EAST conference and should make the results even more unpredictable.
